PART 1: EXHAUSTIVE COURSE THEORY

1. Concept of a Package Tour & Travel Categorization

A Package Tour refers to an all-inclusive, pre-arranged holiday organized by a travel agency, typically combining transportation, accommodation, meals (half board or full board), and guided sightseeing tours at a fixed price. In the Tunisian Baccalaureate syllabus, mastering the lexical items associated with tourism is crucial, especially classifying them into standard conceptual fields. For the exam, students must be able to categorize the following vocabulary items:

- Sightseeing: monument (historical structure), temple (sacred place), statue, palace (royal residence).
- Tourism: package tour, travel agent (person/firm organizing travel), check in (arrival registration), tourist guide, return ticket.
- Means of transport: coach (bus for tourist travels), jet (rapid travel), train, plane, ferry.
- Accommodation: camp site, single room, hotel, youth hostel, full board (all meals included).

2. Case Study: The Canadian Tulip Festival (Ottawa)

The lesson extensively features the Canadian Tulip Festival, held annually in Ottawa, Canada's Capital Region. It is characterized as a peak Spring cultural event, lasting 19 days (e.g., from May 4 to May 21). The advertisement highlights the festival's specialized packages designed for group requirements, introducing the Group Tulip Experience Passport.

The Group Tulip Experience Passport Entitlements:

- Free 19-Day Admission: Unlimited access to the scenic Tulip Promenade at Major's Hill Park.
- Free Access to Official Sites: Free entry to the Tulip Explosion Exhibition Hall Events and the World Flower Council Summit events at the Hilton Lac-Leamy.
- Free Welcome Gift & Souvenir: Each passport holder receives an official tulip souvenir and a personalized 'Passport Photo' taken with the tulips.
- Discounts & Coupons: Heavy shopping and dining discount coupons from local concessions, artisans, partners, and attraction sites.
- Special Contest Entry: Automatic eligibility to participate in a exclusive passport-holder raffle/contest.
- EXAM WARNING: The passport does not include access to the 'Get Out Weekends!' evening concerts at Major's Hill Park, which require a completely separate concert ticket or pass.

3. Core Lexical Definitions (Bac Exam Key)

Students are frequently tested on matching words with their dictionary definitions. The following are the essential lexical pairs for Lesson 6:

- Exhibition: A collection of art works, flowers, or historical items shown to the public.
- Discount: A reduced price or deduction from the regular cost of an item or ticket.
- Souvenir: Something you buy or receive as a gift to remember a place, event, or person.
- Admission: The right or price paid to enter a public place or event.
- Several: More than two but not very many.

4. Grammar & Communication: Formal Emails of Inquiry

A major production skill tested in the Bac is writing a formal email to request information from a travel agency or festival board. Students must master formal linkers and communicative expressions of interest. Essential structures include:

- Expressing Interest: 'I am interested in...', 'I am keen on...', '...sounds very interesting to me.'
- Requesting Information: 'I would like to know more about...', 'Please provide details on...', 'I would be highly grateful if you could inform me about...'

5. Phonetics & Pronunciation Focus (IPA)

Tunisian Bac English exams heavily test phonology. This chapter features three crucial concepts:

A) The Noun vs. Verb Pronunciation Shift: The word 'separate' shifts its final vowel sound depending on its grammatical function:

- To separate (Verb): Pronounced /'sepəreit/ — ending with a clear diphthong /ei/.
- Separate (Adjective): Pronounced /'seprɪt/ or /'sepərət/ — ending with a short /ɪ/ or neutral schwa /ə/ sound.

B) Phonetic Contrast [æ] vs [e]:

- [æ] (Short 'a' sound): package, access, chance (US), capital, passenger, travel, back.
- [e] (Short 'e' sound): separate (adj), festival, temple, jet, check, ticket, shelter.

C) British vs. American English Pronunciation Shift:

- Chance: Pronounced /tʃæns/ in American English (short 'a') vs. /tʃɑːns/ in British English (long 'a').

PART 2: THE ACTIVE RECALL REPOSITORY (40 Q&A;)

This double-column repository serves as an active recall tool for Tunisian Baccalauréat preparation. Students should cover the right-hand column to test their retention of Unit 1, Lesson 6 content.

2. Correction Ultra-Détaillée (Pedagogical Explanations)

- 1. Correct Answer: A (provide). In English grammar, the correct collocation pattern is 'to provide someone with something'. We cannot use 'offer with' or 'demand with'.
- 2. Correct Answer: B (/ɪt/ or /æt/). There is a phonological shift. As a verb, 'to separate' ends in /eɪt/. As an adjective, 'separate' reduces its final vowel to a schwa /ə/ or short /ɪ/ sound.
- 3. Correct Answer: C (access). 'Access' is pronounced /'ækses/ containing the short /æ/ sound. 'Separate' (adj) starts with /e/ in /'seprət/, and 'festival' and 'temple' both contain the short /e/ sound.
- 4. Correct Answer: B (/tʃɑːns/). British English (Received Pronunciation) features the long open 'a' /ɑː/ in 'chance', whereas American English uses the short /æ/ sound (/tʃæns/).
- 5. Correct Answer: C (full board). Full board comprises three standard meals (breakfast, lunch, dinner) provided by the lodging facility. Half board includes only two meals.
- 6. Correct Answer: False. The passport ad explicitly states: 'Passport includes evening access but does not include "Get Out Weekends!" evening concerts at Major Hill's Park, which require a separate concert ticket.'
- 7. Correct Answer: False. While it takes place in Canada's Capital Region (Ottawa), the festival lasts for exactly 19 days, not three full weeks (which would be 21 days).
- 8. Correct Answer: False. They undergo a Noun/Verb phonetic shift. 'To separate' (verb) is /'sepəreɪt/, while 'separate' (adj) is /'seprət/ or /'seprɪt/. The final vowel sounds are completely different.
- 9. Correct Answer: False. They belong to the Sightseeing category because they are historical and cultural places of interest to visit. Transport includes coach, jet, and ferry.
- 10. Correct Answer: False. When the recipient's name is unknown, we begin with 'Dear Sir or Madam' and must close with 'Yours faithfully'. 'Yours sincerely' is used when we know the recipient's name (e.g., Dear Mr. Smith).
